Mountain Heritage Day

Mountain Heritage Day started out as an all-day festival back in 1975, but Mountain Heritage Day 1977 was held over a period of four days, September 22-25, due to its expanding popularity and meaning. The warm September days were filled with the good-time sound of fiddles and five-string banjos, craft demonstrations and sales, a dog show, a four-mile foot race, a black powder shoot, a tobacco-spitting contest, clogging and big circle dancing, and a barbecue dinner. Special guests and features of 1977's festival were a program on Appalachian values and customs, a combination concert and square dance, and a presentation of Romulus Linney's "Appalachia Sounding."

The 1977 Mountain Heritage Award was presented to the Cherokee Historical Association for helping "us to discover anew those committments to the brotherhood of man that have always been dear to the Cherokee people." Mountain Heritage Day is about the people who are keeping alive the old mountain skills and handicrafts.

ΛΧΑ Raft Race

The eighth annual Lambda Chi Alpha Raft Race was held on September 17. The event featured homemade rafts in an action packed race down the Tuckasegee River, starting at Dick's Gap Bridge and ending at the steel bridge on River Road. First place winners were as follows: Women's — Alpha Xi Delta, Men's — Theta Xi, Coeds — Lambda Chi Alpha, and Best Designed Raft — Kappa Alpha.

Casino Night

The roll of the dice, the flick of the cards, and the jingle of the money chips were all sounds of the night as the UCB sponsored their annual Casino Night. October 22 transformed the UC Grandroom into a Las Vegas gambling casino where everyone enjoyed the grand atmosphere of game and cheer. A magical show along with the fantastical surroundings left everyone wondering where reality begin and fantasy ended.

UCB Fun House

Creeping up the stairs of the UC, waiting for something yet not knowing what, then around the corner and through the rooms came screams of horror, chill, and terror! Oh what fun!! Those were the thoughts as students visited the annual UCB Fun House held on October 30. The students involved in the Fun House had as much fun dressing up and acting the part as did the ones who visited the Fun House. The STA department was a great help in making up the ghosts, ghoules, and goblins. The Industrial Technology department was instrumental in building the various frames necessary to construct each set. Overall, the event was a chilling experience.

Miss Thanksgiving Womanless Pageant

November 16 held spellbound an audience of hundreds as the annual Miss Thanksgiving Womanless Pageant sponsored by Alpha Phi Omega came to an end with Randy Mottzinger strutting away with the title and crown. Laughter penetrated the walls of Hoey auditorium as men paraded before a panel of judges competing in evening gowns and talent. More than the audience, the guys participating in the pageant ripped in laughter at themselves as well as their peers. Oh well, it was for a good cause since the admission fee consisted of canned foods and staple goods that would go to families of Jackson County. All-in-all, the evening was a rip-roaring riot for everyone.

Christmas Bazaar

The sounds of Christmas carols, the ho ho ho's of Santa, and the smell of Christmas goodies confronted students as they approached the UC Grandroom on November 10-11 where the UCB's annual Christmas Bazaar was held. Unique homemade gifts were on sale for those getting a jump on their Christmas shopping. Of course, the greatest event was the puppet show enjoyed by young and old alike when "The Night Before Christmas" put the bubbly Christmas spirit in everyone.

Madrigal Dinners

On December 6 and 7, the UC Grandroom transformed into a typical Elizabethan home, honored the annual Madrigal Christams Dinners. Costumed musicians, courtiers, jesters and minstrels presided over the dinner which everyone "hailed" as fantastic.

Top O' the Hill Gong Show

The Top O' the Hill Gang did it again!! Keeping up their reputation for having and creating a good time, they sponsored the Top O' the Hill Gong Show held on February 17. Coordinated by Steve Way and Dean Robertson, the entire program was a hilarious break from the Cullowhee doldrums. Prancing, dancing Dale Sims put everything (!) into being MC, and Dean-Dean the Dancing Machine put more than everything into his performance! Don Dixon, Sandy Ellsworth, and Joyce Farwell were judges for the evening. Debbie Passmore, singing a song called "Cullowhee," won the Best Act award and received a trophy and a check for $5.14. Susan Thomas received the Ass-of-the-Night award. Everyone agreed that a free evening of laughs was a great treat. But you know, with Susan's award and Bert Womack's performance everything was sure to work out!!

WCU Tubing Race

The eight annual WCU tubing race sponsored by the UCB was held March 18, 1978. The race was originally scheduled for February 25, but due to ice on the Tuckasegee River the race was rescheduled. Fifteen participants in this years race began at 1 p.m. at Dick's Gap Bridge on NC 107 to rush through Keener's Rapids and finish two miles downstream at the Steel Bridge. Derek Hiscox of Hendersonville, a WCU senior majoring in management, led the pack by a comfortable margin in the 36 degree water and finished first in 30:34. Timothy O'Connell of Greensboro, was second and Ken Nifong of Winston-Salem took third. Lesley Harvey from Wilmington finished fourth which is the best performance yet turned in by a woman in the race. The prizes of $50, $25, and $10 were awarded to the first three finishers.

TKE Boxing Match

BLOOD! GUTS GORE! Well, maybe not that bad; but that was the atmosphere on March 1 and 2 as the UC Grandroom became the arena for the annual TKE Boxing Matches. Two nights of brutal dexteriry on the mats held the audience spellbound. The matches consisted of different weight classes with winners in each class. John Myers (Midnight) received the Outstanding Boxer award for the matches. Tim Triplett, instructor of the Gung Li Do school of Gung-Fu gave a demonstration of his talents. Also, Lisa Squires gave a demonstration of her talents as she performed a Belly Dancing routine.

Career Day

The UC Grandroom was bustling as Career Day for WCU was held on March 15. Career Day sponsored by the Alpha Kappa Psi business fraternity, the UCB, and the CAP center was a time for representatives from nearly every career field to answer questions regarding employment opportunities. As well as informing students of possible employment, they were able to suggest appropriate major fields of study for some undecided students. Each business had booths equiped with slide shows and free literature to inform students and professors of the various opportunities open to them.

Physique and Powerlifting

On April 8, 1978 the WCU Barbell Club sponsored the Mr. Appalachia Physique Contest and The WCU Open Power Lifting Contest. The Mr. Appalachia contest was the first one held west of Asheville in NC. Doc Neely from Atlanta who is associated with the National AAU Physique Committee served as Masters of Ceremonies for the event. John Howie of WCU received first place in the Physique contest. He also received the award for Best Back and tied for Best Chest. Tim Plowman of WCU received the award for Best Abdominals. The judging consisted of three main categories: the best symetrically developed, definition (the least amount of body fat), and presentation of physique. Preparation for the physique competition requires contestants to keep an extremely strict diet for at least ten weeks. This time is also used to practice posing, for physique competition is often compared to ballet in which weeks of heavy training are necessary. In the lifting contest diet is not restrained. The main objective for lifting contestants is to lift as much weight as possible. Among the male and female lifters from Georgia, North Carolina, Tennessee, and Virginia one 40-year old man lifted 700 lbs. in one lift. Mike Hartsel a honorary WCU Barbell member set the Bench press state record for the 132 lb. weight class at this contest. Judges represented gyms from other states. An added event for the two contests was a Strong Man act by Alan Campos. While lying shirtless on a bed of 18 lbs. of 16-penny nails a 50 lb. solid cement block was broken on his chest with a 10 lb. sledge hammer, and he received no cuts!!

Hike for Hope

Sunday, April 9 was a warm and relaxing day for some but not for the 30 people who participated in the annual Hike for Hope sponsored by the Phi Mu sorority. Students were sponsored for a specific sum of money per mile. The hike started at 9:30 am in front of the UC and ended 25 miles away in Cherokee. For some the hike was not over until 7:00 pm. The money was sent to the Good Ship Hope Organization.

Special Olympics

April 20, 1978 a cold, drizzling Thursday morning the Special Olympics for Cherokee, Graham, Jackson, and Clay counties began with the traditional parade and lighting of the Olympic torch. As two hundred helium-filled balloons were released the Olympic games began. Events included the 50 yard dash, softball throw, running long jump, standing long jump, and swimming. Approximately 150 children participated, and each one was a winner. Those who did not win first, second or third place ribbons received participant ribbons.

Anna Bollick from Cherokee county was the regional director for the Olympics this year. Co-sponsors for the Olympics held on the WCU campus were the Health and PE club, who organized and officiated the games, and the Student Council for Exceptional Children, who raised funds, provided volunteer help, filled balloons, and conducted the opening ceremonies.

The closing ceremonies were performed and the children were on their ways, bag lunches in hand by 1:30 pm. Although there were a lot of cold hands and noses as the children departed from Cullowhee, there were just as many warm hearts. Once again the Olympic oath was fulfilled on the Cullowhee track and field: "Let me win, but if I cannot win, let me be brave in the attempt." Five busloads of brave children pulled away from Cullowhee leaving us with the sentimental farewell — "Take care. See you next year."

Black Week '78

The Organization of Ebony Students sponsored the annual Black Week held this year from April 11-16. The theme for this years celebration was "In Unity Power Prevails." The week consisted of many activities which were directed by Vanessa Aughtry, Black Week Coordinator. Arleshia Hooks and Elvin Sadler were winners of the fashion show, and Gerald Carter performing a fantastic monologue walked away as winner of the talent show.

April 14 was an evening of beauty as seven lovely Ebony Princesses competed for the title of Miss OES at the OES pageant. However, the next night at the Annual OES Ball Miss April Carson was crowned Miss OES for 1978. "Nebulus" was the performing band for the Ball. To end the weeks celebration special Sunday services were held, and Rev. Joe Curry of Gastonia was the guest speaker. Also, the same day the OES Gospel Choir presented their Second Annual Anniversary. The purpose of Black Week was and continues to promote dignity, respect, and awareness of the Blacks, their culture, and heritage.

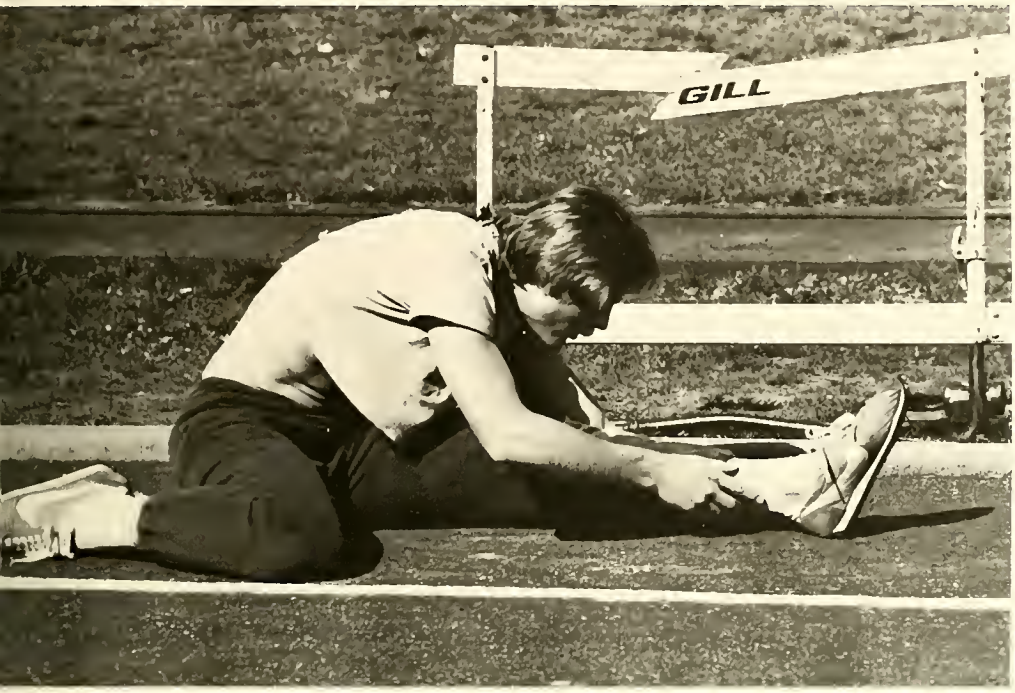
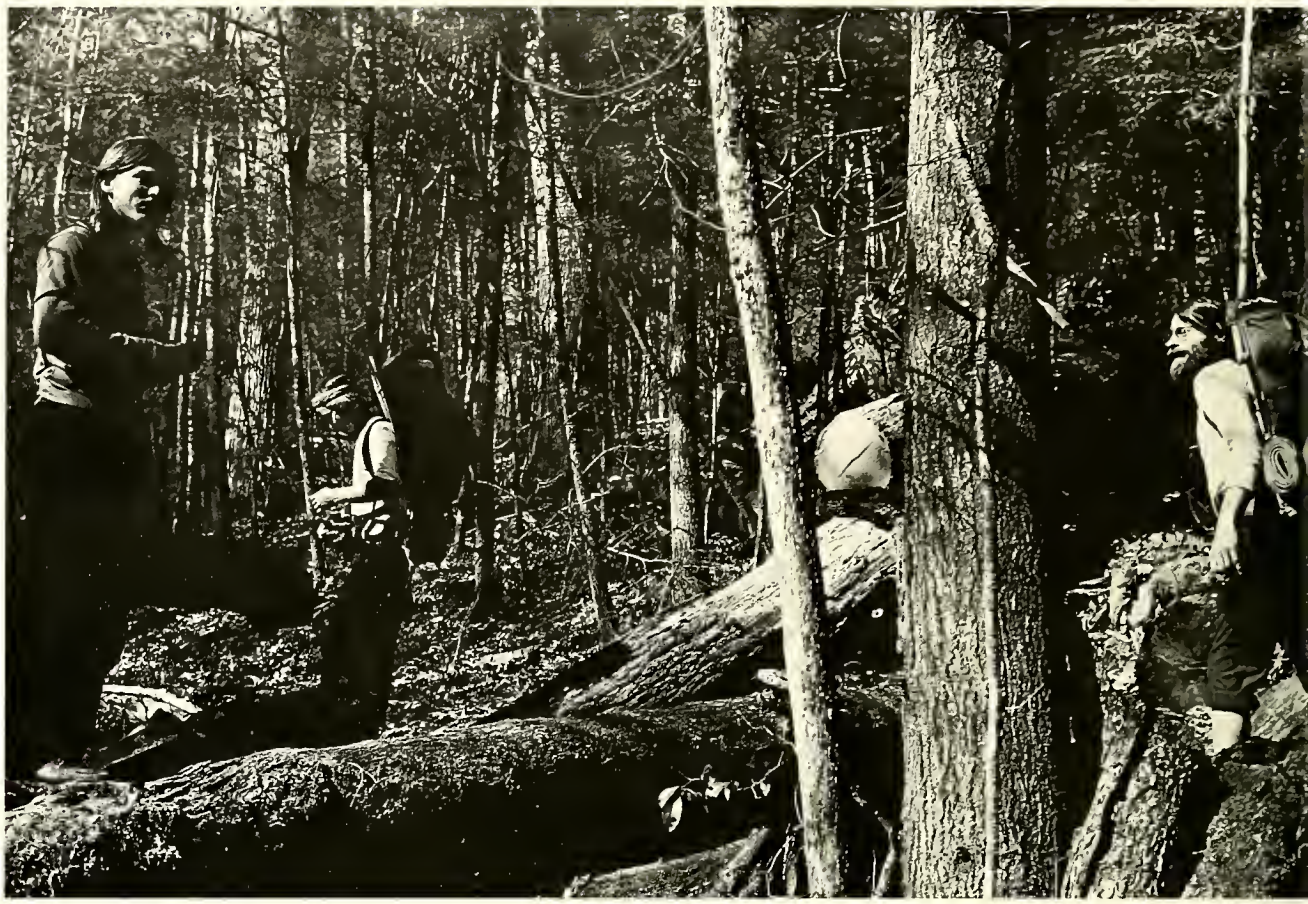
WWCU's Scott Beach

Myrtle Beach eat your heart out!! That is what everyone was saying on April 13 as bunches of girls sunned and showed off on Scott beach. WWCU's Rod Hampton was on hand as he conducted a remote direct from Scott. Shelia Meece won the Suzanne Sommers look-alike contest. Marta Constable won the smallest bikini award, and Lou Ann Canipe was the winner of the best tan contest. As the sun shown brightly it could successfully be said that spring was busting out all over — in more ways than one!!

Speedwell Stride



On April 22, Speedwell Stride, sponsored by the UCB became a first on the WCU campus. It consisted of two races, a six mile race and a half marathon (13.1 miles). Runners from NC, SC, and GA participated in the races with 36 competing in the 6-mile race and 13 in the half marathon. All participants received T-shirts for their efforts.



Special thanks and recognition goes to Terry Painter who supplied the artwork for the Fall section and to Ann Evans who supplied the artwork for the Winter and Spring sections. Thanks for the great job!!

To the students:

Due to circumstances beyond our control, the 1978 CATAMOUNT in part never reached publication. We apologize for the disappointment to the students of Western Carolina University, as well as to the community patrons, who have supported this yearbook throughout the years.

We hope to receive your continued support of the 1979 CATAMOUNT in this coming school year, with our assurance it will be one of the best yet.

Once again, our apologies to you.
